

Respected Sir/Madam

From the core of my heart at first I wish to greet you a thousand times. You have appeared to be the 'good Samaritan' of biblical parable.

I Mallika Das, aged 17, a student of class XII is the elder daughter of Mr. Subhas Das, a farmer. My poor five membered family depends on the little earning of my father. My village name is Bargoda, Dist-purba Medinipur.

The scholarship grant has been credited at my account and to me it is a boon for my life and career. Your relentless effort has enabled me to get advantage of the grant. This may be a turning point of my life. So simply I thank you. Breathlessly I request your good self for granting me permission in having the scholarship grant as long as I pursue my higher studies.

Hope my sole appeal will reach your tender mind. If provided with, I would remain grateful to you with much obligation.

Thanking you,

yours faithfully
Mallika
